Waiting is discouraging.

Prompt action pleases everybody.

A burden on the back is a heavy weight.

Hard to bear day after day.

Lifting weight, removing the burden.

Brings appreciating responses.

Norway people tell of it.

Tell of relief that's quick and sure.

Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Julian Brown, Danforth St., Norway, Me., says: "I suffered from disordered kidneys for more than five years. I was treated by physicians and I took a great many remedies in an effort to find relief, but to no avail. About three months ago I was reading the testimonials given by different persons who had used Doan's Kidney Pills and I decided to try this remedy. I procured a supply at Stone's Drug Store and am now using my sixth box. Doan's Kidney Pills did for me what no other treatment or remedy had previously accomplished and I am grateful for the benefit I have received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

PARTRIDGE BROS., Norway Lake, Me.

My Mountain Home.

Home, sweet home, among the mountains. How my heart thrills at the thought. As I see about their beauty. Scenes which never can be forgot.

As I tread their winding pathways; As I see their verdant slopes; To the low sweet voice of Nature That so lovingly insists.

As I rest in this glory. One who made this world so fair, Yet He dwells in realms above us, Where there's neither toil nor care.

Oh what unseen power surrounds us. Who can doubt it? who will dare? If they stop and just consider, As they wander here and there, See the flowers so sweet and fragrant, And the trees so grand and tall, Ever blooming in the springtime, Ever fading in the fall.

So our lives are like the flowers; Soon well pine and fade away, So let's strive to be found ready, Let us fear the judgment day, 'Twill be sweet to be with Jesus When these mortals we have won, When with arms outstretched to meet us, He shall say, "My child, well done," East Stoneham, Me.

Good News From the Youth's Companion

We have had to make The Youth's Companion larger to get in all the good things that Companion readers ought to have. The added amount would make four hundred pages of standard magazine size and print; but we have kept the price just the same—$1.75 for the fifty-two weeks of 1911, and all the issues for the rest of this year free from the time you send in your subscription.

We would like to tell you what is in store for Companion readers, next year. We cannot do it here, though; there is not room. But send us your address on a postal card, and we will send you the beautiful Prospectus of The Companion for 1911, announcing many new features, together with sample copies of the paper.

We think you will agree, when you have read them, that there is no other paper that gives quite so much of such a high quality at The Companion.

The new subscriber receives a gift of The Companion's Art Calendar for 1911. The Calendar is a calendar for 1911, reproducing in thirteen colors and gold a beautiful water-color garden scene. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

Fryeburg.

George A. Snow, of the vicinity of Fryeburg, was stricken with apoplexy, and his death occurred the following night. He was a trifle over 60 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Snow for a long time has been in failing health and his death is not entirely unexpected by his acquaintances.

For several years he has been unable to attend to any active duties, and during that time he has been fortunate in the possession of a hard working, industrious wife, who has lovingly ministered unto his wants. She is the only one of the immediate family who survives, there being no children.

Federal services were held from the late residence over the corner of South High street and the Willist Road, attended by Rev. S. T. Livingston of the Congregational church, and the burial was in the upper cemetery.

Mary Gordon has gone to Pasadena for the winter.

Mrs. Ellen Connor and little daughter and nurse have gone to Spokane.

Ruth Goodnow Perry and husband of Sudbury spent a few days in town.

Mrs. Reba Thompson and son have been visiting her father, T. L. Eastman.

Edward E. Hastings has been in South Paris to attend the Supreme Judicial Court.

E. E. Spear and family visited Mrs. Spear's mother, Mrs. Alberta Abbott, a few days.

Mrs. D. R. Hastings, Mrs. E. E. Hastings and Alice Hastings were in Portland for the musical festival.

Mary Barrows came and accompanied her mother to Boston. The Barrows' home is closed for the season.

Mrs. William Gordon has gone to Brighton, Mass., to spend a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Billings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Souther, who have spent many months at Elmbank Farm, have returned to their home in Newton, Mass.

An old-fashioned husking bee was held at Clarence Osmond's. About 100 bushels of corn were husked after which a fine supper was served to the huskers.

Mrs. Ella Sweet of Massachusetts, only daughter of the late Mrs. Hale Jacobs, the well known contralto vocalist, has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. B. N. Stone.

Fred Walker has been in town, visiting his brother and sister. He has severed his connection with Parker & Page of Boston, lumber dealers for whom he has traveled ten years and is now the New England agent for a larger lumber firm in Philadelphia.

Dr. S. C. Gordon has closed his summer home on South Main street and has returned to his winter home in Portland. His sister, Mrs. Hannah McKenney, will remain in Fryeburg a few days longer and during this time she will be the guest of William Gordon and his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Waterman.

H. R. Virgin of Portland spent Sunday at Elmbank Farm, where his wife has been spending the autumn. Elmbank Farm, the popular summer home of many friends is still filled with guests and Miss Hobbs is unable to accommodate all those who would like to come there.

It Grows Hair.

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "98" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course in none of these cases were the hair roots dead; nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "98" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "98" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. P. Stone, Main Street, Norway.

Pick-ups at Fryeburg Fair.

The 68th Fair goes down in history as a great success, three days of good weather and two days with a big crowd. The receipts pleased the Finance Committee, as it will allow them to cut down the debt of the society.

Chairman C. E. Fox reports the debt $1500, which has been cut in two, in the last few years. This important committee consists of Charles E. Fox of Fryeburg, James R. Hill and John B. Danforth of Brownfield. These three are the only ones authorized to contract bills for the society. The exact amount that they will pay on the debt is not yet known, but no doubt it will be quite a sum.

Sam Ayer, the noted Percheron stallion owned by J. S. and J. H. Millett of Norway was on the Fair Grounds. J. H. Millett drove overland.

W. O. Brown originally lived in Lovell. He moved to Fryeburg about a year ago and intended to retire from business, but this he has not done. The past season he has been busy with the factory for Baxter Brothers in Vermont, also one in Fryeburg. Mr. Brown is to spend the winter with relatives in Dorchester, Mass. He is to travel on the road for Church Mfg. Co., who manufacture many kinds of machinery.

Herbert Hurd of Fryeburg is a brother of F. H. Hurd of Norway, and who has another brother who is a blacksmith. This makes the Hurd blacksmiths who came from Fryeburg, besides the father who now does some light blacksmithing. Really the Hurds are a blacksmith family.

S. L. Plummer, formerly of Sweden, now of Lovell, was on the grounds, and unless we are mistaken he was showing a power ensilage cutter to good advantage. This Mr. Plummer visits J. W. Nash of Norway, although we understand he is not related to Nash of Maine, the taxidermist.

Charles P. Kimball and wife of Norway have been attending the fair this fall, working the metal stamp badge business.

W. E. Bartlett did a good business in the same line during the Fair. He was assisted by his brother, E. W. Bartlett, who has been stopping the past year at "Brown's Camps", Kezar lake.

E. O. Abbott of Fryeburg showed a lemon tree that grew out of a pot. It was about three feet high, and on it was four monstrous lemons, perhaps 5 or 6 inches in diameter. This was upstairs in the hall. We would have called it grape fruit had it not been labelled.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gibson of North Conway occupied the westerly end of the hall with choice painting, curtains china ware, etc. The pottery was done by Mrs. Gibson and was very fine. Frank Barker of Fryeburg Center tells us that he has not found the pocketbook swiped at the Norway Fair. He lost $6 or $8, and trusts that the money did good to someone. He had on exhibition here a nice lot of calves and steers.

Postmaster Frank G. Ham of Brownfield, came here in his Maxwell car, in fact, he was here every day during the Fair.

Seldon Boynton of Brownfield was an interested spectator at the races. He is in his 71st year, and is a brother of the late Gardiner Boynton who formerly lived in Norway.

E. Chandler Buzzell of Fryeburg has many offices to fill. He is inspector for State Roads in this country, Republican member-elect to the next Legislature, and a judge for the October term of court at Paris.

Seth W. Fife, lawyer, trial and deduction justice, and proprietor of the Burbank Seed Co., was on the grounds with a new Metz Runabout, by the use of which he expects to cut down his hotel bills $1000 between snow and snow. He travels over the State selling seeds. His son Fred is clerk for the Secretary of State at Augusta.

Mrs. W. P. Smith came to the secretary's office Wednesday, to see about the loss of her pocketbook containing $12.05, and hoped that the finder had left it at the office; in less than 30 minutes Mrs. Gammon of Portland came to the office bringing the lost pocketbook.

"At about this time Mrs. Lizzie Wiley of Stow reported the loss of a pocketbook containing a check of $10. She was much agitated and feared that pickpockets were at work. She shed some tears, and begged the secretary to telegraph the bank and stop payment on the check. While this was being done, Walter Pitman of Intervale, N. H., came to the office and left the pocketbook containing the check. She was a happy woman.

E. W. Norton of Standish called on Miss Woodward, clerk at the secretary's office to inquire if the owner for the ladies' neck scarf which had been found a year ago had been claimed. The scarf had been properly advertised and still remained in the office and it was given to Mr. Norton to take home.

Automobile owners and makers were well represented on the grounds. By careful do nt, Wednesday, there were 120 machines; the Maxwell car leading with 23, the Ford and Reo, 12 each and running through with all the well known makes, from the primitive steamer to the 1911 Cadillac.

One unfortunate spectator, Wednesday afternoon, had his nose broken by getting in the track of a "hot-liner" on the ball grounds.

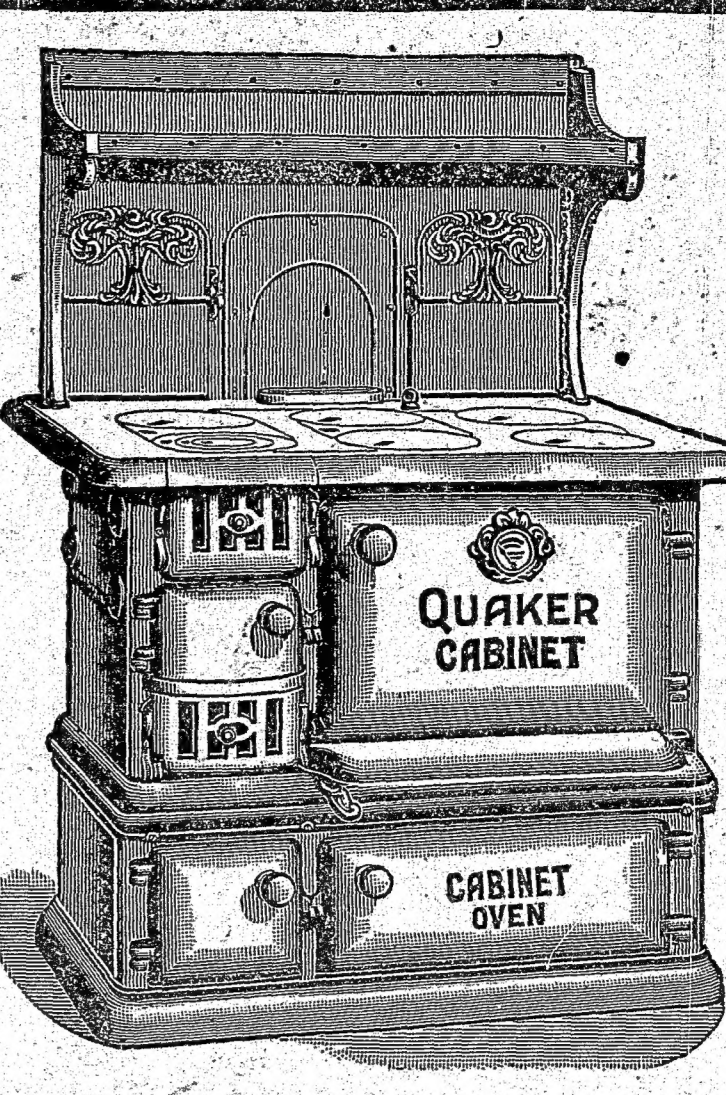

Seth Heald of Lovell, of the Firm of True, Walker and Heald of Lovell, sold tickets during the Fair. He told us that W. H. Farrington of Center Lovell was to build a new hotel on the shores of Kezar lake and that a portion of the lumber was on the ground. We verified this by talking with Mr. Farrington, who says he is to build a forty-room house and that the greater portion of the lumber is already there and a crew of men are now working. He expects to have it ready to move into next spring. His summer guests have overcrowded and driven him out of the farm house, and compelled him to make this addition. He reports an excellent summer business.

The Lake View camps of Benjamin E. Brown of Kezar lake are closed for the season. He has done a record business and has two automobiles besides all his boats and launches, and report has it that he has made a raft of money. His houses are closed now and he is in the woods on a hunting trip.

Eben Fox of Portland and Lovell, and sons, N. T. and Charles E. have recently purchased a large tract of timber land extending from Kezar lake mountain northwesterly some 10 miles, said to contain over 10,000 acres. No lumber has been cut on this for the past 10 years, and it is within easy reach of the Saco and Cold Stream. The reported price paid is $40,000.

The only hotel in town did a smashing business during the Fair week. The Argue Not, formerly the Walter House, under the management of Mrs. Frank

FOR SALE BY GEORGE W. HOBBS, NORWAY

W. Thomas, cannot be excelled, but it is limited in the number of guests it can entertain.

We noticed several one-armed and one-handed men on the fair grounds, among whom were:

Will Irish, clerk at the Randall House, North Conway, who had his right hand cut off in a peg mill some four years ago.

Eben Fox, formerly of Lovell, was on the grounds. He was separated from his hand when about 14 years old by getting it into a hay cutter, but notwithstanding, he has been a very busy and successful business man, and could drive a trotter on the race course as well as anyone.

Reuben Linscott of Brownfield, stableman and stage driver, wears an empty sleeve. He lost his left arm in his father's saw mill some 35 years ago. He is a horse fellow and has driven many horses on the track, though not of late years.

Charles L. Jackson drove a trotter on the track this year, shot his left hand off below the elbow, 16 years ago. He lives in Greenville, and says he can make money through logging winters, so that he can't get horses summers, and break about even in the fall.

William Cartwell, Jr., of North Conway, sawed off his right arm some three months ago.

Walter A. Adams wore a red cap and coat and an empty sleeve. He lost his arm in a railroad wreck 15 years ago. He is now engaged in the show business and can tell you all about the monkeys and the animals in the big tent. His home address is 75 Dearborn Ave., Detroit, Michigan.

Forty years ago, William A. Hawkins of North Conway, got his right arm lanced up in a driving belt of a powder mill at East Bennington, Vt., and lost it. He has since followed the trade of painting.

Roy Osgood, some 10 or 12 years ago when a small boy, attempted to edge a stove in the mill of A. & P. S. Young of Hiram, and lost his right hand. He did this at noon time in the absence of the operators of the mill.

C. E. Burrell of Hiram, lost his left hand 34 years ago by coming in contact with a shingle machine. He still works at the mill business and evidently enjoys life with the rest of people.

"Hand out a box of cigars," Mr. Heald obeyed and they were passed to every person in the store. "I'm 50 years old tomorrow, and not another day's work will I do for any living man for the year 1910," said E. W. Bartlett. This occurred the last week in September in the store of Seth Heald at Center Lovell.

Dr. Seth C. Gordon and family make their summer home at Fryeburg, and enjoy life in the Saco Valley. He has been here for many years, his birth there five years, and if we mistake not, this is his native town. He supports a chauffeur and an eight passenger Stevens-Duryea car, besides being a Democrat in politics and a royal good fellow.

The doctor is high on to eighty, and is as active as the ordinary man at sixty. He can make a good speech in any spot or place, write a prescription, set a broken arm or cut off a leg, and do it in up-to-date methods with grace, dignity and ease.

He was entertaining Congressman-elect S. W. Gould of Skowhegan, who, by the way, was born in the town of Porter, though brought up in Hiram. In the latter town, we presume, he claims as his home. His father, Elias Gould, died in that town last April, and had he lived until May 30th he would have been 90 years old.

Dr. Gordon tells us he is going to write Congressman Swasey, that this year he (the doctor) will not go South for Democratic sympathizers and Democratic support, but can find 'em right here in the Pine Tree State. This refers to a Grand Army love feast speech at Brownfield a year or so ago, in which Congressman Swasey and the doctor took part, and John lamented over the necessity of the doctor going South to find political friends and sympathizers.

Lumber operations this year in this section will probably be the smallest for several seasons. It is said that only one large contract, that of Emery & Ross for the Berlin Mills Co., is being filled in Grafton.

In the lake region where there is usually so much timber cut, very little is reported, will be cut this season. The pulp mills seem to have a large supply of wood and it is said they will buy no green pulp of the river this coming season.

Usually the farmers all along the Androscoggin in this section put from 25 to 300 cords of pulp wood out to the river during the winter which brings in considerable cash, and provides employment and much labor in the winter season, but this year will be quiet in this respect. People are planning to cut birch and hard-woods for the local mills and considerable pine will be hauled in to the local mills. On account of this there promises to be great curtailment of business for the winter in this section but it is argued that it will demand greater activity another year and which will make compensation for the loss this year.

Supreme Judicial Court.

Harry L. E. Trott, deputy sheriff, testified that on visiting Ayotte he told a variety of stories as to his whereabouts at that evening but wound up by saying he was too drunk to know where he was that night.

The defendant claimed that he was not in that part of the town at the time the assault was made. He claimed he was down in the town with some of the fellows but there was more or less shifting of stories as to time, etc., and the jury was out about 15 minutes and returned a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Grace Delano and Gertrude Permon of Rumford contested the indictment against them for keeping a house of ill fame. The jury reported a verdict of guilty as to both.

James Callendo and Annie A. Callendo were tried Tuesday for an assault upon Carmine Janacci with intent to kill and murder.

The parties are Italians who live in Rumford. The assault took place on the 2nd day of last September, near the house occupied by the Janacci family and others. According to the evidence, the Janacci woman's husband, "big Frank" had called Mrs. Callendo went to the Janacci house to call him to account, the prosecution say with intent to use a dangerous weapon and that her husband went with her but hid in the bushes with a revolver in his hand.

Witnesses for the State testified that he was seen and "big Frank" was seen to get out of the way and hide while he hid. The Janacci woman, who was ill in bed, got up and without dressing and in her bare feet, the two women began a scuffle. Mrs. Callendo was put out of the house by the latter's daughters of Mrs. Janacci and the latter threw down some articles at Mrs. Callendo, and went a short distance from the house, when, as she states, Mr. Callendo grabbed her and Mrs. Callendo out her across the left cheek from ear to mouth leaving a scar that she will carry to her grave.

The Callendos deny that Mr. Callendo was there. Mrs. Callendo says she picked up the razor in the Janacci house and used it in self defense. The prosecution say that she took it with her from home.

Mr. Callendo is a barber at Rumford Falls. The testimony of Mrs. Janacci and two or three others, was given to Mr. Lavorgna, the interpreter, and was slow and on some points somewhat difficult to understand. The Callendos talk quite good English. They had three little children. Some of the witnesses also have small children. The Callendos were defended by G. A. Hatch, Jr., and Congressman Swasey, County Attorney R. T. Parker conducted the prosecution.

The judge clearly charged the jury on all questions of law entering into the case, and after being out about an hour, returned a verdict of acquittal for James Callendo and assault and battery against Annie A. Callendo.

Cyrus and Vena Reed of Oxford for a liquor nuisance.

The evidence for the prosecution was that Henry Coolidge and George F. Bailey on the 27th day of August went to Oxford railroad station and got a two gallon jug of whiskey for which one or both had sent away. They took the whiskey to a place in Welchville and all filled up. They met Reed, and as Bailey did not want to go home in the condition he then was in, and take Coolidge with him, Reed said they might go to his place, which they did.

There was more drinking, and both Coolidge and Bailey got so sleepy that they didn't know exactly what took place. When Coolidge waked up he felt thirsty and wanted something to drink. Reed told him he says, that the whiskey they took there was all gone but that he had some he would sell him, which he did.

Bailey testified that Mrs. Reed told him the same and he bought and paid for one pint of whiskey. The sequel to the transaction was that Coolidge, who created much merriment in court by his story, got as he said, "a free ride" to the jail, on a charge of intoxication and was sentenced in the Norway municipal court as an old offender, to 60 days imprisonment, while Bailey, it being his first offence, was given a fine and costs, which he paid. Thereupon, to get even with the Reeds, it seems, the prosecutions were commenced against them by Coolidge and Bailey.

After the testimony for the State had been given the court ordered a nol pros in the nuisance case and also in the two cases against them for single sale.

The divorce hearings took place on Thursday and it is expected court will adjourn finally on Friday.

The indictments found by the grand jury are 34. Thirty-two have been made public as follows:

Guiseppi Pietrantino of Lincoln Pl., murder.

Garnelo Pullet of Rumford, murder.

Ronald Pietrantino of Lincoln Pl., assault.

Peter Ayotte of Rumford, assault.

John Salsis of Rumford, larceny.

George L. Abbott of Livermore, abandoning family.

Richard T. Green and Charles West, of Rumford, breaking and entering and larceny.

Grace Delano and Gertrude Permon of Rumford, keeping house of ill fame.

Seymour Potkus of Rumford, statutory offense.

Louise Potkus of Rumford, statutory offense.

Thomas Lanigan of Oxford, assault with intent to kill.

James assault.

John Lord of Rumford, larceny.

Nap Casavant of Carthage, embezzlement.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which are odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, R. P. Stone, Main street, Norway.

CATARRH OF STOMACH

Ex-Judge Samuel G. Davis.
The remains of Ex-Judge Samuel G. Davis of Denmark, Oxford county, Me., but who died in Washington, D. C., at his residence, 516 Tennessee avenue, N. E., Friday, Sept. 23, were conveyed to his native home, Denmark, Monday evening, Sept. 26, accompanied by his all homestead, Davis Farm, Wednesday, Sept. 28, in charge of the Mount Moriah Lodge of Denmark and the interment was at Pingree cemetery. Rev. O. Peterson officiated and Kate Sanborn rendered several appropriate solos. Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Mr. Davis' last illness was only of five days duration. Primary cause being asthma and secondary congestion of the lungs. In fact he began to fail in health after an accident in which he broke his hip in February, 1908, but through the attention of his devoted wife was nursed back to fairly good health.

He was a conscientious and indefatigable worker and was at his post of duty in the treasury department up to the date of his last illness in spite of failing health. Mr. Davis was a man of fine qualities, a man who believed firmly in brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God, a friend to the oppressed, hence a staunch friend and defender of the negroes, by whom he was loved and adored in Washington.

Sam'l G. Davis was born at Denmark, Me., Oxford county, July 30, 1842. He was the son of William Farrington and Pamela G. (Traverse) Davis. Received his education in the common schools of his native town. He prepared for college at Bridgton Academy in North Bridgton, and graduated from Bowdoin college in class 1865. He was at the time of his death a member of the Bowdoin Alumni Association of Washington, D. C., of which Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller is now president.

Mr. Davis studied law in the office of Charles E. Holt of Denmark and of Fessenden and Butler in Portland, and was admitted to the bar of the State in 1867. Since then he has been engaged in the practice of his profession diversified by school teaching, except when not in government employ.

In his native town he served as auditor, town agent, town clerk, selectman, assessor and overseer of the poor and superintendent of schools, holding each of these offices several years. He was justice of the peace and quorum from January, 1867 until he left the State to accept a government position at Washington in 1882. He was appointed Dedimus Justice of the State of Maine in 1877, and still holds that position.

From September, 1882 to 1886, he was a clerk in the U. S. Pension Bureau and he was detailed as a special examiner. He resigned his position in 1889 and returned home where he remained until 1892, and in 1893 he was appointed a clerk in the Internal Revenue Division of the Treasury Department.

He was prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity in which he has held many offices, including Worshipful Master of the Blue Lodge; High Priest of the Chapter, and was regularly appointed into the order of High Priesthood; District Deputy Grand Master and Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Maine. He holds membership in St. Albans Commandery, Knights Templar of Portland. In the Mount Moriah Lodge of Denmark, Oriental Royal Arch Chapter of Bridgton and the local chapter of the Eastern Star of Denmark. He is a member of the Washington society of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. Davis leaves a widow, Mrs. Helen A. (Hughes) Davis and step-son, Willard N. Hughes, and five children by his first wife, Parazina Bennett Davis, as follows: Blanch P. Jones, Norman C., Mollie P. Pingree, Bertram G., and Webster B. Davis.

A Big Rat Story.
The biggest rat story of the year to date comes from Hiram. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Lowell, hearing some disturbance in an open room, investigated, and discovered a rat in a barrel of traced corn. Bringing their large coon cat they witnessed a lively fight, the result of which at the time was uncertain, but which afterwards was found to show four rats as victims of the cat's prowess. The barrel was covered and removed to the kitchen where another cat was added to the forces and finally when the battle was over between the cats and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, 14 rats lay dead upon the kitchen floor.
